

Darlington Town

© Brian Childs

(Steadily)

Thun-der-ing the wag-on wheels go round___ and round Shudd-er-ing the wag-on rides up___ and down

Hush, now, hush and close your eyes___ for Soon you'll be a-sleep and you won't hear a sound

And the wag-on wheels roll on their way in-to Dar-ling-ton Town_____

Yes the ech-oes of wag-on wheels roll on through Dar-ling-ton Town_____

- 1 Thundering, the wagon wheels go round and round
Shuddering, the wagon rides up and down
Hush now, hush, and close your eyes, for
Soon you'll be asleep, and you won't hear a sound

Refrain And the wagon wheels roll on their way into Darlington Town

- 2 Passing through the dusty field on track half made
Bumping o'er the stony ground by the mill stream
Tired and weary, the traveller sighing and Tired is the coachman, and tired is the team Refrain
- 3 Long ago was breakfast and many's the mile
That we have been a journeying since break of day
Two change of horses, but all the while the Traveller does ache as he grinds on his way Refrain
- 4 Suddenly, in stilly air, I hear a horn blowing
Shouting, in excited voice, "Town ahead"
Now more contented the traveller, knowing that Soon he'll be a-drinking inside the King's Head Refrain
- 5 Quiet is the night air, save for the Skerne flowing
And you may hear a horse in the stables below
Landlord and traveller, coachman are going
Upstairs to their bed as the candle burns low

Refrain But the echoes of wagon wheels roll on through Darlington Town
Yes, the echoes of wagon wheels roll on through Darlington Town